

Why weren't we told?

A handbook on 'Progressive' Christianity
 Rex A. E. Hunt & John W. H. Smith (eds)
 Polebridge Press

 $27.95

"This international collection (30 progressive contributors) of Cameos and Articles on the themes and issues addressed by 'progressive' Christianity, is a response to the often-heard cry: 'Why weren't we told?'"

(From the Introduction by the Editors, Rex A E Hunt and John W H Smith)

"Progressives see the Christian cultural tradition as an ever evolving one, in which individuals are free to think through and enunciate for themselves the beliefs they find most satisfying"

(From the Foreword by Professor Sir Lloyd Geering, ONZ, GNZM, CBE)

This wide-ranging collection is one you will return to often, while providing a valuable resource for use in small study groups.

About the editors

Rex A. E. Hunt is a Religious Naturalist, Liturgist, and Social Ecologist; Founding Director of The Centre for Progressive Religious Thought, and Chair, Common Dreams Alliance, Conference of Religious Progressives in Australia and the South Pacific.

John W. H. Smith is a Founding Member of The Progressive Christian Network of Victoria. As a trained Social Worker he is best known for his pioneering work with children, especially those in need of care and protection, including young offenders, and with adults who have intellectual disabilities.

Both Editors are Ministers of the Uniting Church in Australia and Associates of the Westar Institute.
